* The price protection offered by the Multi-Asset Protected 85 Fund is not guaranteed and is provided by Barclays Bank PLC. In certain circumstances the protection could be reduced or even removed.

 A significantly negative market development can result in the fund consisting almost exclusively of the cautious index. Cautious index means EONIA index. The EONIA index means, the Euro Overnight Index Average calculated as the weighted average of all overnight unsecured lending transactions in the interbank market, initiated within the euro area by the contributing panel banks. Should this arise, you should speak to your financial adviser to discuss whether or not this is now the appropriate investment choice for you. Alternatively, you can contact Standard Life for further information.

◆ In exceptional circumstances, we may delay you making a withdrawal or switch if it is necessary to do so in order to maintain fairness and equity between unit holders remaining in and unit holders leaving the fund.

† This charge contains a protection cost of 0.6%. Other transaction costs will also apply in addition to this management charge.
